HUTCHINSON & CORSER'S. SEWING MACHINES.

When a family buys an article of this kind it is wisdom to get the best. "How shall we know which is the best?" Ask the manufacturers. Ask the woman that supports herself and family by the products of a Sewing Machine; ask the informed and unprejudiced wherever you find them, and the answer comes up "Get a Singers' Machine." The sooner people learn that the Machines heralded about here so well, are but a poor apology for the real substantial Sewing Machines of the day, the better they will be off. Know then that these little off-shoots (these side shows) are almost entirely unknown in or near the manufacturing towns of Mass. We do not

The Singer Machine sews with a straight necdle, and makes the interlocked stitch. It uses silk, cotton or linen thread, and works on cloth or leather. The needle and shuttle are operated by revolving machinery, rendering them more durable. We quote from the Utica Observer of Sept. 15, 1865:

"FIRST PREMIUM .- By reference to the list which we publish elsewhere, it will be seen that the Singer Sewing Machines (both family and manufacturing) carry off the first premiums from the State Fair, which closes to day. It is worthy of remark that these machines are rarely seen at fairs, and the Singer Co. have not entered into the general scramble for premiums which has characterized the past few years. The agent in this city saw fit, however, to come out on this occasion in force; and notwithstanding the competition was sharp-the Wheeler & Wilson, Grover & Baker, &c., &c., joining in the contest-it was plain to be seen, when the practical tests were applied, that the "plumes" must be handed over to the Singer Machines.
